Acknowledgements

One of the most difficult parts of writing a book is not represented by its sections: they flow into beings as the writing proceeds. We are quite familiar with the genre constraints of each section and how to deal with and present them since this has become part of who we are, textual practices of our disciplinary identity. One of the most challenging parts is represented by acknowledging all those individuals who have contributed outside of these generic constraints to who we are. The acknowledgement section is thus the perfect exemplification of this, and mentioning the individuals who have contributed to who we are is an honour but also extremely difficult since our identity is so kaleidoscopic that some of its faces can inevitably be overlooked. Therefore, I hope this section will show readers the different sides of my identity without which I would be lost and not have made it so far.

First and foremost, I want to extend my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to the series editor, Luigi Maria Sicca. His support over the years, trust in me and, most significantly, his crucial role in making this book a reality deserve profound gratitude. I also want to express my deepest thanks to Davide Bizjak, a cherished friend and colleague whose support for this research has been fundamental since its inception. Our journey began in high school, and his consistent advice, guidance and understanding have made him the most influential presence in my life.

I am also grateful to Giuseppe Balirano, whose supervision and trust have been of immeasurable value over the years. He exemplifies the essence of a true mentor, generously dedicating his time and wisdom to shape me both as a scholar and an individual. I cannot express how thankful I am and how much I cherish the countless hours spent in his company while working on research projects, conferences, seminars, and the various aspects of academic life, showing me how things are done and introducing me to a world that can sometimes be challenging to access. He was not afraid to show me where the keys to the various doors were, which sets him apart as a truly exceptional and positive force in Academia.

I am also extremely grateful to all the colleagues and friends who have supported, guided and helped me throughout this journey. Giuditta Caliendo, for being always so gracious and dear to me; Margaret Rasulo, whose support over the pandemic era has been fundamental; Elena Di Giovanni, for her tireless dedication to her work which serves as a constant source of inspiration; Francesca Raffi, for her friendship and her everyday check-ups to make sure that I am all right; Angela Zottola, for consistently being a steadfast presence when I am doubtful and feel like the world is collapsing on my shoulders. I would also like to express my gratitude to Fabio Cangero for his loyalty, enduring presence in my life, and being my golden compass when I lose myself in the darkness of my thoughts. He reminds me that I need only look up and find my way back to a place where I am safe.

I would also like to extend my gratitude to all the individuals who, in various ways, have contributed to challenging this journey. They have served as valuable life lessons, reminding me that fairness is not guaranteed, that people do not always receive what they deserve, and that hard work does not always lead to a happy ending, underscoring the harsh reality that one's sacrifices may often go unnoticed and unacknowledged. In spite of that, I would like to acknowledge their significance in my life, in making me fragile but at the same time tough, in cracking the smile that I once showed and now hide to protect the things I love the most.

These acknowledgements would be incomplete without recognising the countless others, too numerous to list here, who have provided their support, encouragement, and insights throughout this journey. I am deeply indebted to each of you for your contributions, and I always carry your influence with me.

As explicitly stated in the opening pages, this book is dedicated to my mother, father and brother. In the period of writing this, they have been my rock and my safety net where I could forget all the anxieties and troubles of my life. I want to reiterate my deep appreciation for their support and love. Their enduring encouragement and understanding have been the driving force behind my every effort, and this dedication stands as a testament to the profound impact they have had on my life. Love guides all the little things that they do, teaching me that acts of love should always be in everything that I do. I hope that all the people I meet will always be able to perceive their echo in the fibres of my being, a resonating chamber of the extraordinary individuals they are.
